Opening Address

Dear all distinguished fellow members in East Asian Alliance of Sport Pedagogy(EAASP),

As a president of Korean Association for Sport Pedagogy (KASP), and a lab director of Physical Education at Chung-Ang University, I welcome all of you attending this conference in Japan and Taiwan as well as in Korea using YOUTUBE. First of all, it is my great pleasure to host the 2021 international conference with Japan Society of Sport Education(JSSE) and Taiwan Society for Sport Pedagogy(TSSP).

Due to COVID19, we have faced unusual experiences in our lives and did unfortunately not host the 2020 international conference in Korea. Even if the COVID 19 is not over yet, it is so happy for all of us to get together using a new method like online conference.

In a sense, the 2021 international conference is more meaningful than the last conferences, in terms of challenging the given environment and preparing the unpredictable future in East Asia.

The educational ecology in East Asia will be rapidly changing than ever before. For this reason, this year' theme titled as "The Here and Hereafter of Sport Education in East Asia" is very appropriate that makes all of us to think of present and future Sport Education in Japan, Taiwan, and Korea. Likewise the past conferences among East Asian Alliance of Sport Pedagogy, our academic exchange and collaboration could make our academic community more scholarly active and accountable.

This 2021 international conference will be the most exciting event in East Asian Alliance of Sport Pedagogy(EAASP), because we are able to get Asian perspectives and ideas throughout the different eyes and angles from three countries. Thus, I truly expect that the conference theme will give our global society insightful and practical ideas for making policies and educating our learners in physical education and sports.

Finally, I sincerely thank all of speakers including keynote speakers, invited speakers, oral and poster presenters, and presiders. Especially, I appreciate strong collaboration of two presidents(Professors Hidenori Tomozoe at JSSE and Yi-Hsiang Pan at TSSP). I hope that all of you enjoy this conference.

JeongAe You, Ph.D.

President, Korean Association of Sport Pedagogy
Lab Director of Physical Education, Chung-Ang University

Welcome Speech

It is my great pleasure to announce that the International Conference for the 9th East Asian Alliance of Sport Pedagogy is held on July 10th, 2021. Last year's conference was not held due to COVID-19. This year, the conference is held for the first time with online. It is my great pleasure to see you all again. I would like to express my sincere gratitude to Dr. Jeong-Ae You, the president of the Korean Association of Sport Pedagogy, and all my colleagues in Korea for their efforts in organizing the conference.

COVID-19 has changed our daily lives drastically. Here in Tokyo, the 2020 Tokyo Olympic and Paralympic Games will start in a little more than 10 days. However, the number of people infected with COVID-19 has not been decreasing. Unfortunately, there is no festive excitement in Tokyo or across the country at this historic time for the Olympic Games in Japan. For now, I am hoping for a successful conclusion to the Olympic and Paralympic Games, with much excitement from the athletes' great achievements and performances.

COVID-19 has also changed the lives of adolescents. There were many hard times in our restricted lives, both physically and mentally. Especially in Japan, physical education classes and sports activities in schools were restricted, and youth competitions were cancelled. In a way, this situation was a good opportunity to teach us once again the importance of sports and physical activities not only for the youth but also for human beings.

The theme of the conference, "The here and hereafter of sport education in East Asia," is very timely now that COVID-19 is not over. Under this theme, through the discussions at the conference, we will gain a common understanding and great guidance for the future. I wish you a very fruitful online conference.

Hidenori Tomozoe, Ph.D

President, Japanese Society of Sport Education

Welcome Speech

Dear Colleagues and Friends:

“The 2021 International Conference for the 9th East Asian Alliance of Sport Pedagogy(EAASP)” is hosted on-line by Korea Society for Sport Pedagogy (KSSP) in Korea, July 10, 2021. First of all, we appreciate that KSSP to hold this wonderful conference, and also express our gratitude to our friends from EAASP, including members of KSSP, the Japan Society for Sport Pedagogy(JSPP) and Taiwan Society for Sport Pedagogy(TAASP). The purpose of this conference is to initiate the idea of develop sport pedagogy in East Asia. The title, “The Here and Hereafter of Sport Education in East Asia”, is the main topic in this conference. It aims to bridge the gap between theory and practice, and to improve for the quality of current physical activity and sport in physical education. “Sport has the power to change the world.” said by Nelson Mandela. For all of us, we want to say that “Sport has the power to make life better”. this conference may provide you the newest viewpoints and practical knowledge in sport pedagogy. This is also a platform for us to share the latest research findings in curriculum, teaching and teacher education in physical education.. Hope you enjoy it and have a lot of harvest in professional development.

Dr. /Prof./ Yi-Hsiang Pan
